

Still managing your team . . .

from your inbox?

Introducing the Workflow Messenger®

Focused Communication

Team progress depends upon team communication. Endogy Workflow Messenger keeps team members and managers continually in touch without unnecessary emails and meetings.

Stay Informed - all project information is updated and published in real time to all associated team members

Track Progress - completed work and time spent automatically tallied by project and task

Stay Nimble - status, priority, due dates, and other task properties can be changed instantly

Share Information - notes, documents, calendar events, and other task materials can be shared among team members

Flexible Implementation

The Workflow Messenger is built to work with projects large and small, and to handle any number of tasks or projects simultaneously. It can be integrated into your existing infrastructure or hosted remotely.

Safe and Secure - all network communication is encrypted for safety and important information is archived for later retrieval and reporting

Standards Compliant - Workflow Messenger leverages XML and instant messaging protocols

Adaptable - powerful tasking structure can handle both simple tasks and complicated long-term projects

All-In-One Solution

The Workflow Messenger brings together many team communication technologies in one easy-to-use platform.

Task Tracking - full assignment, time, and work tracking allow all team members to see exactly where projects stand in real time

Secure Messaging - encrypted and archived instant messaging can be associated with individual tasks for easier retrieval

Survey and Evaluation - instant surveys and 360° assessments can be implemented at any time by any authorized team member

Real-Time Contacts - because contact information is shared, phone numbers and addresses don't go out of date

Calendar Sharing - events and automatic RSVP lists can be shared among team members

Expert Reporting - thorough archiving of task progress can be used to gain insight into overall workflow effectiveness

A better view of team activity

Organize task and event lists according to preferences

Compile 360° assessments and timesheets with real time results

Nested tasks accommodate complex projects

Send secure instant messages regarding particular tasks

Message and task with teammates, external contacts, even clients

User-friendly display shows all project and task information (status, priority, % complete, etc . . .) in real time

Better Workflow Efficiency

The Workflow Messenger not only makes communication easier, it also improves the bottom line by increasing overall efficiency.

Fewer "dropped" tasks - once assigned, tasks remain active until completed or deleted

Reduce network threats - no more sifting through spam or worrying about email viruses

Decrease down time - immediate notification means tasks can progress without constant supervision

Digital trail - all progress and messaging is archived for analysis and workflow process improvement

For More Information

To find out more about the Workflow Messenger, or to schedule a demonstration, contact us:

endogy
<http://www.endogy.com>
info@endogy.com